Excerpt: .-wood seizes wood, one of the members of the County Committee, the county magazine. who, luckily for himself, had been absent from the meeting at Chelmsford, having gathered together the trained bands from the northern part of the county round his own house at Mark s Hall, near Coggeshall, had swooped down on the county magazine at Braintree, carrying off the arms of which his opponents were in such dire need.1 On the 10th the Eoyalists advanced towards June 10. The Braintree, Whalley following closely upon their Royalists movements, but not venturing to attack with his in-a eig s ferior numbers. On the way they turned aside to Warwick s house at Leighs, from which they carried off what arms they could find. The night of the 10th and the greater part of the following day they anclat spent at Braintree, where they organised their little june n. army, and took counsel as to their future movements. Their original plan had been to push forward into Suffolk and Norfolk, where the gentry were ready to join them, and where it might be possible to secure a sufficient supply of arms and ammunition from their friends beyond the sea. At Lucas s persuation, however, the commanders They-1 /-1 T 1 resolve to agreed to turn aside to Colchester, not with any m-march to tention of taking up a position of defence in the town, but simply in the hope that Lucas s popularity 1 An...
