As I sit by the stove, all polished and nicked, Where a carpet of velvet covers the floor, I reckon I ought to feel wonderfully tickled While the wind thumps and bangs at the door; Yes, ought to feel glad - so much to admire, But it all will not cure a longing desire A fellow will have for the old hickory fire; With its curling and snapping, And its whirling and lapping; That good old fashioned hickory wood fire. Their anthracite coal don t have any snap; No bright burning flame up the flue rolls; I can t help missing the sweet hickory sap Frying out of the fore-stick over the coals; These new fangled fires are all very well, But one thing I miss, and its easy to tell: Tis the good old fashioned hickory wood smell; That old rustic perfume Which filled up the room; That good old fashioned hickory wood smell. How often we d sit by that wide open...
